

Nypro LIVES UNITED

You may not have heard of Nypro Oregon unless you've navigated the long and softly twisting roads of Research Way. By looking at the reflective glass in front, it would seem to be a building stuffed full of office space; but it happens to be a 94,000 square foot highly technical structure committed to manufacturing plastic and thermoplastic molding products for the healthcare, electronics/telecommunications and consumer markets. Nypro Oregon provides their customers with the latest machinery and systems in molding technology anywhere in the world, offering automated insert molding, two-shot molding, thin wall molding, over-molding and more.

The Nypro team can help a business manage their programs from development to launch to high volume manufacturing.

This year, Nypro “LIVED UNITED” by holding their first United Way campaign, they had a very successful food, clothes and toy drive that benefited Vina Moses and Linn-Benton Food Share.

Kylene Kirk is the Lean Six Sigma Manger for Nypro Oregon, and this past campaign was her first year as their United Way

Campaign Leader. Kylene graduated from Oregon State University in 2002 with a degree in Industrial Engineering. She started working for Nypro in 2006 and works diligently on efficiency and continuous improvements to their manufacturing and development processes. United Way enjoyed working with Kylene and is looking forward to next year. It's always exciting for United Way and the community when a large employee owned company like Nypro is involved and actively engaged with the various agencies and programs United Way supports.

The Administrative Assistant for Nypro, Wendy Wood, spoke about her life and her reason for give to a community that is relatively new to her. Wendy moved from Texas in 2007, and soon after began work at Nypro. She actively volunteers her time, and enjoys fun activities that local organizations host to spread the word about their cause. She mentioned that if you go out to lunch one less time per pay period, those funds can be dispersed among a variety of agencies within Benton County and have a greater impact.

Thank you, Nypro, for creating opportunities and inspiring hope for a brighter tomorrow.
